This checklist is for parents in Washington seeking to establish or challenge paternity and asking "what documents do I need for paternity in Washington?" or "how do I prepare for DNA testing in Olympia?". It helps organize information for efficient processes under Chapter 26.26A RCW, potentially saving time/costs (average court case $1,000-$5,000). This is not legal advice, always consult an attorney like Morgan Hill PC for personalized guidance.

1. Gather Basic Identification and Records

- Child's birth certificate: Obtain certified copy from WA Department of Health (~$20 fee).
- Parents' IDs: Driver's licenses, passports, or birth certificates for both alleged father and mother.
- Marriage/divorce records: If applicable, to show presumption or prior status.
- Acknowledgment form: If voluntary, get Paternity Acknowledgment from hospital or DOH.

2. Prepare for Voluntary Acknowledgment (If Cooperative)

- Both parents' agreement: Discuss and prepare to sign form together (free at DOH or hospital).
- Child's info: Full name, birth date, place for form completion.
- Witness/notary: Some forms require; arrange if needed.
- Post-signing updates: Plan for birth certificate amendment and benefit notifications.

3. Prepare for Court Petition (If Disputed)

- Petition forms: Download Petition to Establish Parentage from WA Courts site; complete with child/parent details.
- Financial declarations: Income/expense forms if support involved (e.g., for child support calc under Chapter 26.19 RCW).
- Evidence of relationship: Photos, messages, or affidavits from witnesses supporting paternity claim.
- Service documents: Prepare for serving the other party (fee $50-$100).

4. Plan for DNA Testing and Evidence

- DNA test info: Research accredited labs (cost $300-$500; state may cover if low-income).
- Medical records: Child's health history or prenatal care showing father's involvement.
- Timeline evidence: Dates of conception, birth, any prior acknowledgments.
- Challenge prep: If disestablishing, gather prior DNA or fraud proof within 4-year limit.

5. Address Related Issues and Challenges

- Custody/support plans: Outline desired parenting time or support needs post-paternity.
- Background prep: Criminal/CPS records; address any issues early.
- Military considerations (JBLM): Deployment docs for SCRA delays.
- Financial budget: Estimate costs (filing $260, attorney $1,500+); check for waivers.
- Emotional support: List counselors or resources for family stress.
